1.4.2 – How the feedback obtained is being analyzed and utilized for overall development of the institution? (maximum 500 words)

Feedback Obtained
Feedback is collected from different stakeholders - students, teachers, employers, alumni and parents. This multi stakeholder feedback approach helps to get a 360-degree view and perceptions about our service product, academic and administrative processes and quality of education, infrastructure, and also outcome of our efforts. The feedback is used to assess our strengths, best practices and also indicates areas of improvement and ways of achieving greater satisfaction levels. We primarily use google forms to elicit feedback from students, alumni, teachers and parents. This helps in quick calculations and presentation of results in the form of graphs and charts. A Google doc also provides students and other stakeholders a chance to give an honest and candid feedback given that it can be done anonymously. Feedback is elicited from Alumni either in alumni meets or through links to google docs sent on what's app groups. Physical feedback forms are collected from Employers. Feedback is collected from students at the end of each semester. Students assess curriculum, effectiveness of teachers and infrastructure. Employers' feedback mainly seeks information and assessment on the outcome of our educational product in terms of students' knowledge, attributes and attitudes. Faculty members are asked to assess curriculum in terms of strength in achieving programme outcomes and meeting market requirements. Parents are asked to assess quality of our program offered, infrastructure, quality of teaching, and outcomes achieved in terms of attributes and achievements of their wards. Alumni primarily evaluate utility and value of the programme and quality of education and services at SVIMS. These feedbacks are assessed, and an analytical report of each stakeholder group is presented to the Director. The Director discusses with individual teachers their strengths and weaknesses and counsels teachers on the future course of improvement. Teachers may be sent for training or Faculty Development programmes are organized for improvement in quality of pedagogy. Based on the analysis and recommendations on curriculum by different stakeholders, changes in curriculum are suggested to Board of Studies [SPPU]. Similarly, teachers are requested to add some components to enrich the course and/or introduce different certificate courses to add to skills of students or add contemporary knowledge or help students become ready for the job market. These suggestions for adding certificate courses are also made to the Governing Body to get their concurrence. Employers' feedback on attributes of students also help to add relevant value add courses or other student development programmes, workshops so as to help students become industry ready. Feedbacks regarding infrastructure, additions/ improvements are made to the Governing Body and requisite changes are made as per their decisions.

CRITERION VI – GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 – Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 – Mention two practices of decentralization and participative management during the last year (maximum 500 words)

Ms. Dhawane had read about online courses available on SWAYAM and NPTEL. During the academic planning meeting, while discussing about initiatives to improve quality of teaching - learning, she proposed that faculty should take up these courses to improve their knowledge and also pedagogical skills. The HOD was then requested to take up a study of these courses and report on their utility. It was reported that these courses were of a high quality, designed and delivered by faculty from IIMs, IITs and other reputed institutions. They helped self paced learning and were very affordable. Given this, the Director then suggested that undertaking these courses should form a part of KRAs - this would help in self development and also improve quality of teaching. The suggestion was subsequently taken up in IQAC for discussion and approval. Subsequently the Director in a meeting with the Student Council floated the idea of these courses to students- this would help seamless education and possibly lead to life long learning. Ms. Medora, the Student President discussed the idea of these courses with students - the HOD explained these courses to the students and urged them to enrol for different courses. The IQAC took up the discussion of offering these courses even to students in their meeting. The decision was unanimously passed and accepted. Students were guided into taking up the courses. Blended teaching was introduced. Staff and students enthusiastically enrolled and completed several courses. Decision of donating blankets through Robinhood Army exhibits a very good example of decentralization and participative management - As a practice by the institute, the CSR activities are planned very frequently and students participate actively in such activities. In December 2018, when lakhs of homeless people experience bitterness of winter 1, the Student President with the other members of Students Council proposed for the Blanket Donation drive. Those days many NGOs including our own Trust Sadhu Vaswani Mission were providing a helping hand to the homeless and less privileged. The NGO named Robinhood Army was, in this connection approached by the then Student President Ms. Shirin Medora which was suggested by her mother Ms. Meher. This proposal of associating with Robinhood Army to distribute blankets amongst the needy was discussed by the students and staff members along with the Director to come to a conclusion. In continuation with this decision, it was decided to not provide monetary help to this NGO but instead search for a vendor, buy Blankets from him/her and then donate the blankets to the NGO. The donation drive was successfully undertaken on 1st and 2nd Dec between 11 pm to 4 am in the areas of Wakad, PS, Nashik Phata, Pimpri, Chinchwad, Kasarwadi, Khadki, Shivaji Nagar, JM Road, Yerwada, Pune Station, Aundh, Baner Chaturshringi Temple. With the participation of students, involvement of a parent, teaching and non-teaching staff, the decision was made and we were able to donate 46 blankets to the needy.

7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

The institutes best practices are: (1) Title of the Practice: Sustainability accounting initiative Objectives: • To practice Sustainable and Ethical practices in Teaching and Learning process • To take forward the Founder's vision of Sustainable lifestyle further with introduction of sustainable accounting. • To be recognised as green campus with green practices • To build research base in Sustainable Practice on and off campus for immediate stake holders. The context: The institute is entering the completion of its first decade since inception in management studies with a pelage to measuring sustainable practices on and off campus by its immediate stakeholders. Though, this seems to be a new practice by many, it is a century old practice introduced the Founder Sadhu T L Vaswani through his work of uplifting women through education and sustainable life practices. The institute now focuses on the measuring these practices implemented on campus using modern methods of outcome measurability. Thus, first steps towards sustainable accounting practices, where research was conducted to measure two sustainable activities on campus for the current academic year 2018-2019. The Practice: Sustainability accounting initiative: Carbon Foot Print mapping for the academic year 2018-2019. The institute practices Sustainable Ethical practices through a Sustainable Campus: Institute takes pride in implementing various sustainable practices on campus which are in line with the United Nations Global Sustainability Goals. The institute has mapped Carbon Foot Prints by calculating Carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions saved by the following: (a) Conducting a sustainability research study on staff member's voluntary choice of sustainable transportation facilities like walking to work, cycling, public transport and car or bike pooling. The focus to calculate the CO2 emission saved by 6 staff members (50 present staff) switch to sustainable mode of transport for one year. The empirical result proved that a significant volume of CO2 Emissions of 34.848 tons for the year 2018-2019 was saved from emitting into the ecosystem. The first sustainability accounting for the institute for a small voluntary step. (b) A research study was conducted to understand impact of observing Meatless Day on the Ecology. On 25th November, 2018 a total of ___ number of students went meatless for a day to celebrate the birthday of the patron Sadhu T L Vaswani. A questionnaire was floated to the participants, 27 students responded. Using this data, CO2 Emissions was calculated for the respondents going meatless for one day. The empirical result shows a total savings of 262.457 tons of CO2 Emissions on the given day in the ecosystem for going meatless. Entrusting that sustainable practices at the institute result in a positive impact on the ecosystem.(c) The institute follows the principals of ethical practices in its day to day functioning, laid by its patron Sadhu T L Vaswani and founder Dada J P Vaswani. Thus, it implements and practices green ecosystem and well equipped green infrastructure before a mandate is issued by governing agency. Evidence of Success: The sustainable initiatives on the campus resulted in positive CO2 emission savings. Research conducted on two practices, namely: sustainable choice of transportation facilities voluntarily opted by some of the staff members and the Meatless Day observation, has resulted in saving a total of 297.305 tons of CO2 Emissions in the period 2018-19. Problems encountered and resources required: The problems encountered for implementing sustainable accounting: (1) Even though the institute has many sustainable practices since its inception they were not measured for impact on the ecosystem. One reason could be that being a management institute the institute lacked a bent of mind towards using the influence of fundamental sciences in management research for accounting sustainability. (2) The institute has a small human resource base for running the organization. Thus, the research study was done on 6 staff members' choice of sustainable transportation facilities and its impact on the ecosystem. (3) The second sustainable study focused on the impact of 'Meatless Day' observed on 25th November, 2018 on the Ecology. The study faced problems in collecting data from all members who pledged to observe 'Meatless Day'. Thus, the calculation is based on 27 active respondents going meatless one day. (2) Title of the Practice: Introduction to MOOCs and Flipped Classroom system [Modern Pedagogy] Objectives: • Introducing students to high quality online courses designed by IIMs/IITs and available on SWAYAM and NPTEL platforms [increasing their functional knowledge and employability] • Exposing them to advanced pedagogy used in these courses and complementing it with flipped classroom pedagogy The context: The institute has incorporated interesting pedagogical mix throughout its existence to help realise its vision of providing affordable quality education for professional development of women in management. To further this goal, and to keep pace with contemporary pedagogical advancements, it introduced Flipped Classroom system for MOOCs. The system allowed for exposure to contemporary and industry relevant knowledge, technology driven teaching aids, affordability, individualistic, self - paced learning and complemented these with blended classroom teaching to assist students to clarify concepts, suggest some additional reading or explain concepts required as pre reading and generally keep them motivated so that they do not drop out of the courses. This step has at once led to capacity building and created an urge for lifelong learning among students. The Practice: 1. An orientation program was held for students wherein they were introduced to the concept of MOOCs, SWAYAM and NPTEL and the utility and the high quality of these courses at affordable fees was explained 2. Faculty too registered for these courses as part of their KRAs 3. An effort was made to match learning needs of students and these were matched with courses available. Students were counselled about course choices 4. Flipped classes were conducted to keep the students engaged and avoid dropouts

5. Progress was monitored Evidence of Success: The success is evident from student enrolment and completion of the courses defined under the Program Name- Management Effectiveness Program by Swayam Online Courses/NPTEL Course with Indian Institute of Management Bangalore as knowledge partner. The details are indicated below for the academic year 2018-19: (1) Financial Statement Analysis and Reporting completed by 20 Students. (2) Financial Institutions and Markets completed by 17 Students. (3) Human Behaviour completed by 11 Students. (4) Sales and Distribution Management completed by 2 Students. (5) Introduction to Marketing Essentials completed by 4 Students. (6) English Speaking Course completed by 1 Student. (7) Better Spoken English completed by 1 Student. 1. A total of 53 students out of 56 from MBA batch 2017-19 and MBA Batch 2018-2020 who opted for these courses benefited through this system and a total of 53 certificates were earned by the students in the given academic year. 2. The Savitribai Phule Pune University has introduced and accepted MOOSs for credits in their revised Curriculum 2019 indicating the success of our proactive step in this direction. Problems encountered and resources required: 1. Convincing the students about the utility of these courses 2. Getting faculty to invest their time in flipped classroom teaching 3. Students had to travel to Mumbai [from Pune] to appear for their exams as the centre was not available in Pune

7.3 – Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words

Arranging for Private Scholarships to Fund Education The institute has, as its vision and focusses its energies in the direction of empowering women by providing them with affordable, quality management education. It endeavours to provide equity and access to such education to all eligible women irrespective of caste, colour and creed. Toward this end, 1. As an Institutional Policy- we choose not to indulge in paid form of media promotion, resulting in lowering fees and keeping them affordable. 2. Students are guided regarding Govt. scholarships. This has led to 28 age of students being beneficiaries of such scholarships [this even though the Institute is a Linguistic Minority Institute] 3. For those who are not eligible for these governmental scholarships but are ill equipped to pay fees, special efforts are put in to arrange for scholarships by philanthropists and even industry. This year, we were successful in getting SYSKA- LED to sponsor fees to the tune of Rs. 286826/- for six students. Of these, one is a suffering from major thalassemia and the other is a daughter of a road- side vegetable vendor. The Institute ensures quality by providing the best of infrastructure, IT facilities, well qualified teachers, introduction of add on/ certificate courses by professional agencies at rock bottom fees. For example, an IELTS course offered by one of the best Centres in Pune [which charges over Rs. 6000 per person for the said course] offers such a course [same modules] at a mere Rs. 600 at our Institute. This is owing to our brand equity and commitment to ethics and empowerment of women. Industrial visits [including international exposure] interface with industry experts and professionals further helps to enhance the quality of our educational inputs. Holistic development is assured through provision of character -based education. Our endeavors thus are always focused on providing affordable quality education!
